*75 Years
of Fairview Tradition
Beginning in 1900*

Fairview's tradition of excellence began in 1900 and has been evident in achievements in every field: scholastic, academic, and artistic. From the 1914 baseball team to 1927 girls' basketball team and orchestra of the 1930's, the Fairview tradition has generated a standard of quality. The school's original location was the corner of Catalpa and Fairview. Because of growing enrollment, as evident in the pictures of the classes of 1915 and 1938, Fairview moved to its present site in 1929.

*In the 40's and 50's
Fairview Paved the Way for Quality Education in Dayton*

In the 1940's and 1950's, Fairview continued to grow in both size and tradition. Some traditions, such as the annual May Day celebration and the Fairview Follies, have been replaced by other activities that more nearly represent the attitudes of the students of the 70's. However, some events, such as homecoming and dramatic productions continue as before.

Social Transition Necessitates Change but Never Affects Quality at Fairview

Human relations, apathy, civil rights, and self-awareness were all a part of Fairview in the 60's and early 70's. While searching for self, Fairview students continued in the Fairview tradition of community service and concern.

Fairview Administration Leads the Way to a Successful Year

Mr. Floyd G. Norman has been the principal of Fairview High School for two years. The smooth running of the school is his responsibility and he must co-ordinate not only student and faculty activities but also those of the Fairview community. He devotes many hours to student activities and the Fairview athletic program. Mr. Norman is also Fairview's major liaison with the Board of Education and must work within the school to set standards and programs which reflect city-wide policy.

Mr. Benjamin Montgomery was new to Fairview this year. He had previously been Assistant Principal in the Stivers building. Mr. Montgomery deals primarily with Fairview's male students, but he is also responsible for such activities as the Senior Honors Assembly.

Mrs. Jean Booker came to Fairview in 1968 from Roosevelt High School where she had also served as Assistant Principal. At Fairview she acts as unofficial dean of women and serves as the administration representative in such groups as the Final Exam Committee and the Student Handbook Committee.

Mr. George Ford has been Fairview High School's Administrative Intern for two years. In that time he has been deeply involved in all aspects of the school, but his most important job has been co-ordinator of all student activities.

Main Office Secretaries Work Hard Behind the Scenes

Mrs. Moodler, Mrs. Tremaine, and Mrs. Ashworth work diligently each day helping the administration, keeping student records and performing other important tasks which keep Fairview functioning.

Mathematics and Science Encourage Research and Exploration

The math and science departments at Fairview are well-known for their honors and advanced classes. The mathematics department was enlarged this year to include a math specialist who gives extra help to students having difficulty in class. The science department offers special programs too, especially in advanced physics and chemistry.

In the past 75 years, Fairview has undergone many changes. In the same respect, we the students and graduates have also changed because of our experiences here.

We have experienced the satisfaction of learning through our education here.

We have experienced the excitement of involvement through many activities.

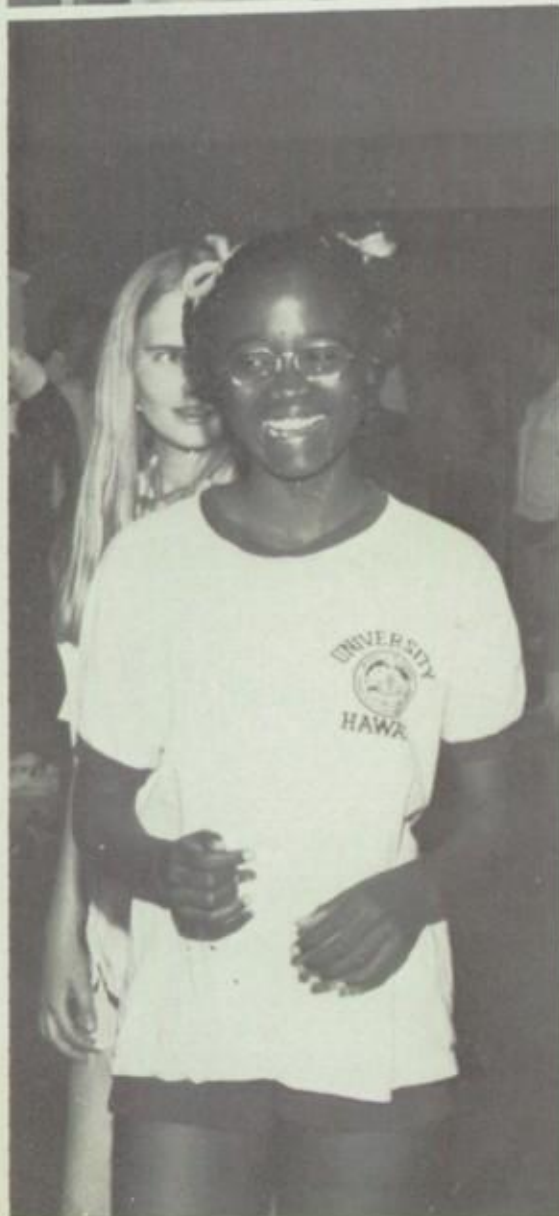

We have cultivated friendships by getting to know the faces around us.

We have obtained enjoyment from the many people and activities.

But more important, we have come to the realization that living well with each other and ourselves is the most rewarding experience of all.

Acknowledgments

We proudly present the 1975 TOWER OF MEMORIES and hope it will serve as a reminder not only of the school year but also the tradition of Fairview itself.

We wish to thank the following people for their assistance: the Fairview Administration and Faculty; Mr. Hirtzinger, Taylor Publishing Company representative; Mr. Hoover, the Fairview business manager; and Schwabe's Studio, the official yearbook photographer. Special thanks also to Mark Combs, who photographed and designed the cover, and to Ron Vangrov, who provided additional photographs, and to Margie Widdowson, Editor-in-Chief, who researched and designed the opening and closing sections of the TOWER OF MEMORIES.
